

OUR TOWN

"Signs" of Spring

Seeing as how one of those highly-gear'd tourists' critics let out such an uncompromising blast a couple weeks ago about Grayling the "non-beautiful," we decided to look into the matter. Maybe this guy was right, we figured.

So, when Sunday rolled around and a beaming sun shone from an equally beaming sky, we did what the folks did. We took a ride. Some fun, this riding a couple make-believe tourists.

We decided to go north so we went south, to get a first-hand look at what the meandering motorist sees when he heads north, through Grayling the "non-beautiful."

After clearing the lower reaches of the south approach to this snuggly village, we turned and pointed the nose of the car due north. Up to this point our mission lacked much of the lustre of adventure.

It was interesting enough to see the varied vistas unfold. The untrammelled snow was pretty and the variegated evergreens sparkled in their winter-nurtured foliage. Nice country, at that.

"Town ahead," suddenly chirped the Missus.

Sure enough, the tell-tale signs of habitation began to loom ahead. Town of Grayling, according to the neat little highway marker.

"My goodness," says the Missus, "I must see that show."

Baffled by such a sudden, strange idea we could only mutter that we thought show-going and touring didn't mix all in one afternoon.

"What show is that?" we finally ventured.

"There! See that big billboard," responded the Missus.

"It's the 'Song of the South.' I always did want to see that one and here it is right in Grayling."

Right then we concluded there was nothing to do but encourage the little lady. A glance at the huge, weather-beaten billboard revealed the astonishing fact that "Song of the South," judging from the advertised date, must now be in its 14th week at the Grayling theater. Probably topping all records.

We meekly suggested all of these ponderous facts only to discover that the Missus had suddenly lost her enthusiasm. She catches on easily.

Merrily we rolled along. More signs up ahead, or was that the cemetery on the right? No, it wasn't the cemetery. We could remember the cemetery was north of the town.

A little closer now. Sure, there were signs—or rather had been many years ago. Those rotting posts sticking up at all sorts of crazy angles weren't old grave markers after all. History students of some repute we should know the Revolutionary War dead aren't buried in these parts.

Aha! A golf course on the left. Not too bad. Must have been pretty in its day. The war did that. Will probably be revived and beautified again before too long.

That big sign up on the edge of the golf course. At last, maybe, we'll find out what makes this town tick. Sure enough, there's the word "Grayling" in big letters. Omigod! Can't read the rest of it. Might have been used for a target, or something. Just a big snafu. Town must be broke. No paint, no lumber, no nothing.

Right then, dear reader, the Missus comes up with the score. She's a hound for statistics, anyhow.

She pertly reveals that in the exact distance of the last one-fourth of a mile approaching Grayling, there is this to greet the motorist:

(a) A total of twenty-nine signs of assorted advertising in various degrees of dilapidation. (One sparkling new sign not included):

(b) Six sets of rotting, empty posts, a couple of them with dangling, weather-beaten boards still attached.

(c) Seven reasonably intact signs lacking the paint and necessary repairs that would brighten up the highly commercialized landscape.

If there be any skeptics, we earnestly recommend this little jaunt to the north, via the south. There will be more sunny, balmy days, ideal for such a trip. Nothing like seeing for yourself.

(Note: Cheerful enough is the refreshing rumor that the city fathers along with highway property owners plan a crack down on offending sign owners. The expected verdict: "Fix 'em up or pull 'em down".)

What the motorist sees once he arrives in Grayling, and what his reactions actually are or are presumed to be, will be the subject of another travelogue to appear soon in this space.

Watch for it!

Dr. C. R. Keyport Honored at Meet

Dr. Claude R. Keyport of Grayling was named as one of five Michigan physicians that had given "outstanding service towards organized medicine" during the past decade in honors bestowed at the Annual Postgraduate Clinical Conference held at the Book Cadillac Hotel in Detroit last week.

The other four doctors honored with Dr. Keyport were Dr. Thomas Gruber, Supt. of Wayne County Hospital, Dr. Henry Luce, a specialist in psychology, Dr. Leo Christian of Lansing, and Dr. Frank E. Reeder of Flint.

Dr. E. T. DeGurse of Marine City was announced as the winner of a new award as "Michigan's foremost family physician." The 74-year-old country doctor was presented that night with a scroll and a specially printed biography of his life.

The presentation came after a banquet at which the aging physician was a guest of honor.

The others, honored at a luncheon, were Dr. Henry F. Vaughn, now dean of the school of public health, University of Michigan; and Dr. Emory W. Morris of Kalamazoo.

Dr. P. L. Ledwidge, president of the Michigan State Medical Society, presented scrolls.

Emphasis in these awards was on the battle to improve public health. The Kellogg Foundation, Dr. Ledwidge pointed out, has spent $26,000,000 in the last 12 years, fostering public health, research grants for specific tasks, and unifying public health measures with private medical practices.

The award to the Kellogg Foundation until now had been presented twice, to the Society for Crippled Children, and to C. F. Kettering, General Motors research wizard.

Willard Cornell In Final Year As Grayling Mentor

Developed Nine Loop Champs in 15 Years

Willard (Butch) Cornell, coach of the Grayling High School Green Wave for the past 15 years of service to the area of Grayling, has turned out nine conference champions, two each in foot ball and baseball and three in basketball. In addition, his cage squads have captured trophies from five district tournaments.

Coach Cornell was born in Harbor Springs and attended high school there where he excelled in football and basketball. Upon graduation he entered Western Michigan College at Kalamazoo, where he won his letter in football, basketball and baseball. He taught one year in Springfield, Illinois after his graduation from college. Butch, as he is best known, then started on his teaching and coaching career at Grayling in 1932 and will finish out his school year but will not return to fall, instead he will devote his full time to his insurance agency.

During his coaching career here his basketball squads have won 179 games, lost 113 out of 292 regular season and tournament contests, an average of .615. They have had six losing seasons where their record was smaller than the loss column. Among his top teams, he selected the 1935-36 squad which swept 16 straight in the regular season only to fall 20-19 to the district champion. The first game of the district journey, this year, he selected the 1935-36 squad which swept 16 straight in the regular season only to fall 20-19 to the district champion. Masonic rites were conducted at the cemetery by the Joppy Lodge, No. 315 of Bay City, in behalf of the Grayling Lodge, No. 356, F. & A. M., of which the deceased was a member.

Mr. Hammond was made a Mason here in 1905 and was presented a life membership in December, 1945.

He passed on at his home in Bay City on Tuesday, March 9, at the age of 90 years, following a three years' illness.

Mr. Hammond resided at 2115 Broadway, in Bay City, and was a member of the Bay City Shrine, and the Elit Khurafat Shrine in Bay City.

He was born Feb. 1, 1858, in Montreal, Canada. Mrs. Hammond, the former Miss Marie Deenes, died in 1928.

Survivors are a son, William D. of Pope Valley, Calif.; a daughter, Mrs. Dow Platt, of Bay City; a sister, Mrs. Robert Elliott, of Lechute, Canada; and five grand-children and seven great-grand-children.

Spring To Bring Renewed Activity At Camp Grayling

Plan $40,000 Project To Rehabilitate Site

With the coming of spring, work is expected to proceed with renewed vigor at Camp Grayling to plan the new building and the construction of the site.

The new warehouse, a single story structure, 161 feet by 221 feet in size, is being built with funds of the State Military Establishment. Approximate cost of the new building is $195,000, of which $20,000 will pay for the building in the structure.

Constructed of cement block and composition roof, the new warehouse is being erected on a site just east of the railroad spur and the camp grounds. Ruins of the destroyed warehouse were covered by a detail from the 107th Engineer Combat Battalion at last summer's encampment.

The job of placing Camp Grayling in usable condition for the coming summer will be paid for from funds supplied by both the federal and state military establishments. Colonel Ray E. Cotton, U. S. property and disbursing officer for Michigan, has requested approximately $40,000 in federal funds from Fifth Army Head-

Kiwanis Club Notes

William Tufts, Lieut.-Colonel, Reserve, gave an extremely interesting and informative talk on the proposed Universal Military Training Act at the regular meeting of the Kiwanis Club of Grayling held in the parlors of the Michelson Memorial Church, Monday night.

Colonel Tufts told of the intended working of the plan in regard to the training and handling of the groups of young men between the ages of 18 and 20 who would be called into the UMT if the act were passed.

Corporal Champney of the Traverse City Fifth Army Recruiting Station followed Col. Tufts talk with two movies. The first was entitled "Baptism of Fire" and depicted what the young men of America had to contend with on the battlefields of Europe. The second movie was a captured German Nazi film entitled, "Air Blitz of Holland." This captured scene showed the German paratroopers in a thrilling capture of two vital Dutch bridges which aided the Nazi war machine to roll over the Netherlands.

The program was handled by Jerome Kessler and was timely and much enjoyed by the club members.

Next Monday night, the Grayling Kiwanians are sponsoring a dance and basketball game which will be held at the Grayling High Gym. Tickets for the game are available from any club member.

Woman's Club

Mrs. Jack Cook was hostess to the Woman's Club Monday evening, with a good attendance, despite the bad weather.

The ladies were entertained by a book review of Macbeth, very ably given by Rev. R. C. Puffer.

Following the book review a "white elephant" auction was held which was very successful among the ladies and gratifying results for the treasury.

The next meeting will be held March 29th at the home of Mrs. Lee Williams, 404 Park Street.

Mrs. A. Funk will be guest speaker.

Bibles To Sigler And Legislature

The Gideons of Michigan through the Capitol City Camp presented a white Bible to each member of the State Legislature at a joint session held in Lansing Tuesday.

Mr. D. J. DePree, former president of the Gideons of Michigan, made the presentation message and gave Governor Kim Sigler a special gold embossed copy.

Local School Thanked For TB Seal Sale

The Michigan Tuberculosis Association thanked the Grayling Schools, for what they termed a "generous response" in the Christmas Seal Sale, in a letter to School Superintendent Frank Bond recently.

The letter acknowledged the receipt of a check for $92.00 from the sale by the children of the local schools and that their effort would help in the fight to stamp out the dread disease.

A copy of "The Golden Encyclopedia" has been sent to the Fourth Grade room, taught by Mrs. Emil Giegling, as a prize for selling the most Christmas Seals.

It is expected to be ready for use sometime in June. In plenty of time for next summer's encampment.

The $40,000 in federal funds has been requested to cover the many miscellaneous but important jobs connected with placing the camp site and equipment in condition for the summer encampment. A breakdown of the request for federal funds includes the following items:

Clearing area for 46th Division Headquarters Company, $325.00; repairing of rifle, combat and artillery ranges, $2,150.00; resurfacing and reinforcing of sections of roads damaged by weather and heavy equipment, $910.00; cleaning and renovating two septic tanks to insure efficient sewage disposal, $600.00; replacement of worn-out tent floors and construction of additional ones to meet requirements due to increased strength, $27,062.50; replacement of 1000-foot mess tables and mess hall benches and construction of additional ones, $1,512.50; recon-ditioning refrigeration plant $200.00; construction of two buildings (combination bath and latrine), $6,700.00.

Much of the labor used in the repair work at Camp Grayling will be recruited from the Grayling area, it is understood.

Committee To Invite P-80's And Guard Aerial Squadrons Also

An invitation tendered by the Grayling Air Service to the Dawn Patrol has been accepted by the Aviation Association of Michigan for April 25. Over 200 civilian planes are expected to begin arriving here early that morning which will be the first Dawn Patrol of the season.

The Grayling Chamber of Commerce, after naming a steering committee headed by Clayton McDonnell, is seeking the full cooperation of every local club and group in an effort to make the visitors a real welcome.

A Legion committee headed by C. L. Bobbitt has a program well underway to rename and dedicate the Grayling Army Air Field to McNamara Field as it was known before the late conflict.

Plans call for making the dedication ceremonies the top part of the day's program if it is at all possible to clear up routine work on the matter by that time.

The committee in charge of the affair, meeting Monday evening, completed plans to invite the attendance of several P-80 jet planes for aerobatics and an invitation to the Michigan National Guard air wing to attend with a squadron of Guard military planes has also been sent.

An invitation will also be forwarded to Governor Kim Sigler, who is an active pilot and attends the Dawn Patrol flights whenever he is able to be away from Lansing. Governor Sigler is a constant caller at the big Grayling field during the summer and has expressed a distinct liking for the Grayling port.

It was proposed by the Chamber that all civic groups join in a cooperative welcome program for the day, featuring first a pancake and sausage breakfast at the Grayling Winter Sports park warming house. Following the breakfast transportation provided from Grayling sources will conduct tours for the fliers to the Military reservation, Fish hatchery, Hartwick Pines and other interesting points. Merchants will be asked to extend every courtesy to the fliers and to feature signs of welcome in their stores.

Several civic groups will be asked to furnish prizes to be awarded the oldest pilot, youngest pilot, first to land, last to land and others.

Fred C. Welsh, Bill Joseph and John Peterson were named to a committee chairmaned by McDonnell.

Red Cross News

In last year's fund campaign much emphasis was placed on the importance of stressing "Why" there was a continued peacetime need for SAF, SV, as well as other Red Cross services.

The story that lies ahead is still big when one realizes that, contrary to general belief, the percentage of World War II veterans receiving government benefits is surprisingly low. A recent survey conducted by the Army Times in all sections of the U. S. revealed that only 55% of such veterans have received benefits under the GI Bill of Rights.

For Red Cross the continued responsibility of helping veterans and their dependents—or beneficiaries has increased rather than decreased since VJ Day. This is particularly true in the case of VA hospitals where the patient load exceeds 100,000, and many more VA hospitals are to be built.

After the next year or two it is believed that the total over-all work load will show a downward trend, insofar as disability claims, vocational rehabilitation, and educational benefits are concerned. However, services related to medical treatment, hospitalization, death compensation or pensions, and insurance are expected to increase.

Robert R. Welsh is heading the Crawford County drive as fund chairman.

Lions Club News

The Grayling Lions Club held its first anniversary dinner last Thursday night at the Grayling Restaurant, 65 persons were present, including guests from Kalamazoo, Benavon and Rogers City.

Les Hunter, secretary of the Lions, gave a short welcome to all present.

The guest speaker for the evening was Lion District Governor Fred C. Harnville. He gave an outline of Lion activities in this district and also spoke on our obligation as Lion members in the present world situation. He said "There is room for only one 'ism' in America—that is Americanism."

Grover Cox entertained the group with several amusing stories. Bob Meeker kept the evening very much alive with his accordion, and group singing was enjoyed.

A large, colorful birthday cake occupied the center of the dinner table. After a delicious turkey dinner, everyone was served cake and coffee to round out the evening.

The door prizes were won by Mrs. R. C. Puffer and Mrs. Maurice Dore.

Sheriff Warns On Highway Parking

Sheriff William Goinick today issued a warning to drivers who park on the highways outside of the City of Grayling. He said a number of complaints had been received in his office about people parking overnight on the highways.

He pointed out the state law was specific on the subject and that he had issued warning tickets in a few cases, but that summons would be given to violators from now on. M-98 around Lake Margrethe was said to be the most troublesome area by the law enforcement official who added that the road was only 18 feet wide and that a car taking up 5 to 6 feet of pavement caused a real threat to the traveling public.

Dr. Claude R. Keyport of Grayling was named as one of five Michigan physicians that had given "outstanding service towards organized medicine" during the past decade in honors bestowed at the Annual Postgraduate Clinical Conference held at the Book-Cadillac Hotel in Detroit last week.

The other four doctors honored with Dr. Keyport were Dr. Thomas Gruber, Supt. of Wayne County Hospital; Dr. Henry Luce, a specialist in psychiatry; Dr. Leo Christian of Lansing, and Dr. Frank E. Reeder of Flint.

Dr. E. T. DeGurse of Marine City was announced as the winner of a new award as "Michigan's foremost family physician." The 74-year-old country doctor was presented with a scroll and a specially printed biography of his life. The presentation came after a banquet at which the aging physician was a guest of honor.

The others, honored at a luncheon, were Dr. Henry F. Vaughn, now dean of the school of public health, University of Michigan; and Dr. Emory W. Morris of Battle Creek, president of the W. K. Kellogg Foundation.

Emphasis in these awards was on the battle to improve public health. The Kellogg Foundation, Dr. Ledwidge pointed out, has spent $26,000,000 in the last 12 years, fostering public health, by research, grants for specific tasks, and unifying public health measures with private medical practices.

The award to the Kellogg Foundation until now had been presented only twice, to the Society for Crippled Children, and to C. F. Kettering, General Motors research wizard.

Willard Cornell In Final Year As Grayling Mentor

Developed Nine Loop Champs in 15 Years

Willard (Butch) Cornell, coach of the Grayling High School Green Wave for the past 15 years will be through with mentoring the local lads at the end of this school year, he informed the Grayling Board of Education at their last meeting.

Cornell, in his 15 years of service to the athletes of Grayling, has turned out nine conference champions, two state foot ball and baseball and three in basketball. In addition, his cage squads have captured trophies from five district tournaments.

Cornell was born in Harbor Springs and attended high school there where he excelled in football and basketball. Upon graduation he entered Western Michigan College at Kalamazoo, where he won his letter in football, basketball and baseball.

He taught one year in Springfield, Illinois after his graduation from college. Butch, as he is best known, then started on his teaching and coaching career at Grayling in 1932 and will finish out his school year but will not return this fall. Instead he will devote his full time to his insurance agency.

During his coaching career here his basketball squads have won 179 games, lost 113 out of 292 regular season and tourney contests, for an average of .615. They have had six losing seasons where their record for wins was smaller than the loss column. Among his top teams, he selected the 1935-36 squad which swept 18 straight in the regular season only to fall 20-12 to the state champion.

During the 1936-37 season, this outfit should have made their way into the State tournament, he said. In 1934-35 the team lost but 3 games and in 1932-33 they defeated Grayling in the tournament finals although they were twice beaten by the Blue and Gold during the season. They also dropped

Former Resident Laid To Rest

Funeral services were held last Friday afternoon at Bay City funeral home for William T. Hammond, former resident of Grayling. Dr. Frederick A. Robles officiated and burial was in Elm Lawn Cemetery, in Bay City.

Masonic rites were conducted at the cemetery by the Joppa Lodge, No. 315 of Bay City in behalf of the Grayling Lodge, No. 356, F. & A. M. of which the deceased was a member. Mr. Hammond was made a Mason here in 1905 and was presented a life membership in December, 1945.

He passed on at his home in Bay City on Tuesday, March 9, at the age of 90 years, following a three years illness. Mr. Hammond retired as a New York Central railroad conductor 21 years ago, after 40 years of railroad service. He was a member of the Bay City Consistory, and of the El Khurafah Shrine in Saginaw.

He was born Feb. 1, 1858, in Montreal, Canada. Mrs. Hammond, the former Miss Maria Deenes, died in 1926.

Survivors are a son, William D. of Pope Valley, Calif.; a daughter, Mrs. Dow Platt, of Bay City; a sister, Mrs. Robert Elliott, of Lochnagar, Canada; and five grand-children and seven great-grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred R. Welsh, daughter, Miss Gail, and son, Tom, are vacationing in Florida.

FORMER RESIDENT SUCCEUMBS

E. P. (Van) Dean, 56, died suddenly on March 10, in Los Angeles. Mrs. John Dean, in Los Angeles, on March 10. Mr. Dean spent his last years in Grayling.

He was a graduate of St. Mary's in Bay City and attended St. Mary's College in Ontario. He is survived by his daughter, Mrs. Mary Ellen Moore, one grandson, school and all their effort would help in the fight to stamp out the dread disease.

A copy of "The Golden Encyclopedia" has been sent to the Fourth ward room, taught by Mrs. Emil Giegling, as a prize for selling the most Christmas Seals.

Spring To Bring Renewed Activity At Camp Grayling

Plan $40,000 Project To Rehabilitate Site

With the coming of spring, work is expected to proceed with renewed vigor at Camp Grayling to place the camp site in usable condition for the 1948 encampment of the Michigan National Guard, it was announced recently by the adjutant general's office.

Already construction is under way on a new warehouse being built to replace the one destroyed by fire on the evening of March 19, 1946, and warmer weather is expected to see new activities started in connection with re-creating the Hanson State Military Reservation for the 7,000 troops who are scheduled to arrive here on August 7 for the annual 15-day encampment of the army units of Michigan National Guard.

The job of placing Camp Grayling in usable condition for the coming summer will be paid for from funds supplied by both the federal and state military establishments. Colonel Ray E. Cotton, U. S. property and disbursing officer for Michigan, has requested approximately $40,000 in federal funds from Fifth Army, Headquarters at Chicago for the rehabilitation of present buildings and equipment and the construction of new.

The new warehouse, a single story structure, 181 feet by 221 feet in size, is being built with funds of the State Military Establishment. Approximate cost of the new building is $195,000, of which $20,000 will pay for the equipment in the structure. Construction of cement block and composition roof, the new warehouse is being erected on a site just east of the garage on the east side of the railroad spur on the camp grounds. Ruins of the destroyed warehouse were covered by a detail from the 107th Engineer Combat Battalion at last summer's encampment. Spence Brothers, Saginaw contractors, were awarded the contract for the new structure.

The warehouse will contain facilities for receiving and shipping all types of military equipment by truck or rail, and for storage, sorting and handling of individual and organizational clothing and equipment, both State and Federal.

Alpena for the first win over that team ever recorded by Grayling. The 1941-42 and 1942-43 teams were both prospective State tournament quintets also. The 1941-42 squad won the district and lost the regional in the finals to Harbor Springs by a 22 to 20 count with the Ram clicking on 10 out of 12 foul shots with Grayling making 2 out of 4. In 1942-43 Grayling won the area tournament but as there were no State tournament due to the war were stymied. The 1945-46 team which won 14 and lost 3, he also compared favorably with the best. In 1943-44 they won the district tournament and lost to Pellston in the Regional. Also in 1937-38 with an 8 won, 11 lost record they took the district over highly touted Onaway, but lost to Charlevoix in the Regionals. The Rayders went on high into the State tournament. Football, after being dropped by Grayling in 1925, was again started in 1939 and has been played every year since.

Kiwanis Club Notes

William Tufts, Lieut-Colonel, Revere, gave an interesting and informative talk on the proposed Universal Military Training Act at the regular meeting of the Kiwanis Club of Grayling held in the parlors of the Michigan Memorial Church, Monday night.

Col. Tufts told of the intended working of the plan in regards to the training and handling of the groups of young men between the ages of 18 and 20 who would be called into the UMT if the act were passed.

Corporal Champney of the Traverse City Fifth Army Recruiting Stations followed Col. Tufts talk with two movies. The first was entitled "Baptism of Fire" and depicted what the young men of America had to contend with on the battlefields of Europe. The second movie was a captured German reel showing the German paratroopers in a thrilling capture of two vital Dutch bridges which aided the Nazi machine to roll over the Netherlands.

The program was handled by Jerome Kessler and was timely and much enjoyed by the club members.

Next Monday night, the Grayling Kiwanians are sponsoring a donkey basketball game which will be held at the Grayling High Gym. Tickets for the game are available from any club member.

Local School Thanked For TB Seal Sale

The Michigan Tuberculosis Association thanked the Grayling Schools, for what they termed a "generous response" in the Christmas Seal Sale, in a letter to School Superintendent Frank Bond recently.

The letter acknowledged the receipt of a check for $92.00 from the sale by the children of the local school and praised their effort.

After the next year or two it is believed that the total over-all work load will show a downward trend, insofar as disability claims, vocational rehabilitation, and educational benefits are concerned.

However, services related to medical treatment, hospitalization, death compensation or pensions, and insurance are expected to increase.

Robert R. Welsh is heading the Crawford County drive as fund chairman.

Lions Club News

The Grayling Lions Club held its first anniversary dinner last Thursday night at the Grayling Restaurant, 65 persons were present, including guests from Kalamazoo, Beaverton and Rogers City.

Les Hunter, secretary of the Lions, gave a short welcome to all present.

The guest speaker for the evening was Lion District Governor Freer of Harrisville. He gave an outline of Lion activities in the district and also spoke on our obligation as Lion members in the present world situation. He said "There is room for only one 'ism' in America—that is Americanism."

Grover Cox entertained the group with several amusing stories. Bob Meeker kept the evening very much alive with his accordion, and group singing was enjoyed.

A large, colorful birthday cake occupied the center of the dinner table. After a delicious turkey dinner, everyone was served cake and coffee to round out the evening.

The door prizes were won by Mrs. R. C. Puffer and Mrs. Maurice Dore.

Warm Weather Will Aid Area Deer Herd

The coming warmer weather will be a definite aid to Crawford County's deer herd who have had hard going during the past few weeks. The "feed the deer" program of the Grayling Sportsmen's Club went a long way in saving many deer from starvation during the below zero weather of late February and early March.

The fund for purchasing hay for the starving deer was kicked off by a $44 donation by the club. Welsh Motor Sales added $3 and Parsons and Lamm, Walter Truettner, Holger Hanson, Shoppengons Inn, Roy Sindlinger, Duke's Hotel, Burns Market, AuSable Restaurant, Alfred Hanson, Decker's Taxi, Johnson Oil Co., King and Son, C. W. Moshier, Rolla Failing and the Avalanche donated the fund. Hanson's Cafe put in $150 and John H. Peterson, Wesley Klumpala, B-C-D, Wesley LaGrow, Don Gohr, E. R. Burns, Grayling Restaurant, Earl W. Dawson, Ron's Hardware, Grayling Pharmacy, Shop Hispe, State Shell Service Station, E. N. Darveau, Callahan's Service, E. D. Johnson, Martin's Hipeed, Northend Grocery, Hayes Oil Co., AuSable Service Station, Lone Pine Inn, Liland Smock, Plaza Grill, Spike MacNeven, John's Grocery, Payne's Food Market, Hunter's Dairy and Dawson's all contributed $1 each to raise the fund to a $115 total.

Woman's Club

Mrs. Jack Cook was hostess to the Woman's Club Monday evening, with a good attendance, despite the bad weather.

The ladies were entertained by a book review of Macbeth, very ably read by Rev. C. C. Puffer. Following the book review, a "white elephant" auction was held with much spirited bidding among the ladies and gratifying results for the treasury.

The next meeting will be held March 29th at the home of Mrs. Lee Widman, 406 Park Street. Mrs. A. Funck will be guest speaker.

Committee To Invite P-80's And Guard Aerial Squadrons Also

An invitation tendered by the Grayling Air Service to the Dawn Patrol has been accepted by the Aviation Association of Michigan for April 25. Over 200 civilian planes are expected to begin arriving here early that morning which will be the first Dawn Patrol of the season.

The Grayling Chamber of Commerce, after naming a steering committee headed by Clayton McDonnell, is seeking the full cooperation of every local club and group in an effort to make the visitors a real welcome.

A Legion committee headed by C. L. Babcock has a program well underway to rename and rededicate the Grayling Army Air Field to McNamara Field as it was known before the late conflict. Plans call for making the dedication ceremonies the top part of the day's program, if it is at all possible to clear up routine work on the matter by that time.

The committee in charge of the affair, meeting Monday evening, completed plans to invite the attendance of several P-80 jet planes for aerobatics and an invitation to the Michigan National Guard air wing to attend with a squadron of Guard military planes has also been secured.

An invitation will also be forwarded to Governor Kim Sigler, who is an active pilot and attends the Dawn Patrol flights whenever he is able to be away from Lansing. Governor Sigler is a constant caller at the big Grayling field during the summer and has expressed a distinct liking for the Grayling port.

It was proposed by the Chamber that all civic groups join in a cooperative welcome program for the day, featuring first a pancake and sausage breakfast at the Grayling Winter Sports park warming house. Following the breakfast, transportation provided from Grayling sources will conduct tours for the fliers to the Military reservation, Fish hatchery, Hartwick Pines and other interesting points. Merchants will be asked to extend every courtesy to the fliers and to feature signs of welcome in their stores.

Several civic groups will be asked to furnish prizes to be awarded the oldest pilot, youngest pilot, first to land, last to land and others.

Fred C. Welsh, Bill Joseph and John Peterson were named as a committee chairmaned by McDonnell.

Red Cross News

In last year's fund campaign much emphasis was placed on the importance of stressing "Why" there was a continued peacetime need for SAE, SV, as well as other Red Cross services.

The job that lies ahead is still big when one realizes that, contrary to general belief, the percentage of World War II veterans receiving government benefits is surprisingly low. A recent survey conducted by the Army Times in all sections of the U. S. revealed that only 55% of such veterans have received benefits under the GI Bill of Rights.

For Red Cross the continued responsibility of helping veterans and their dependents or beneficiaries has increased rather than decreased since VJ Day. This is particularly true in the case of VA hospitals where the patient load exceeds 100,000, and many more VA hospitals are to be built.

After the next year or two it is believed that the total over-all work load will show a downward trend, insofar as disability claims, vocational rehabilitation, and educational benefits are concerned.

However, services related to medical treatment, hospitalization, death compensation or pensions, and insurance are expected to increase.

Robert R. Welsh is heading the Crawford County drive as fund chairman.

Sheriff Wards On Highway Parking

Sheriff William Goinick today issued a warning to drivers who park on the highways outside of the City of Grayling. He said a number of complaints had been received in his office about people parking overnight on the highways.

He pointed out the state law was specific on the subject and that he had issued warning tickets in a few cases, but, that summons would be given to violators from now on. M-98 around Lake Margrethe was said to be the most troublesome area by the law enforcement official who added that the road was only 18 feet wide and that a car taking up 5 to 6 feet of pavement caused a real threat to the traveling public.

Grayling Ground Loops

Wayne E. Holzman of Grayling has enrolled in the private pilot course under the GI Bill. Robert Holzman, brother of Wayne, is about ready to solo.

The first time enrollments of both husband and wife occurred when the Grayling Air Service enrolled in the private pilot course Mr. and Mrs. Ed Welch; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Johnson, all of the Grayling Auto Service. Florence Welch and Doris Johnson are the first women students to represent the fair sex in the school. We would like more representation. There is nothing in the books that states a man can fly better than a woman. How about it girls? If enough enroll we will give you special attention. Women pilots have a state-wide organization that carries plenty weight on aviation matters. There is a budget plan for civilian training that is worth inquiring about. Full details can be had by contacting the office on the airport.

In School at Feldhauser

We regret that one name was left off our honor roll last week—that of Lawrence Stephan, who is in kindergarten.

This week we entered a very different looking school. With the necessary firing of the furnace, things were beginning to take on a great-coat of mixed soot and dust. This new cleaning job, however, fixed all that. It raised our morale too.

Lewis Bushamp and Bob Stephan are building a two story doll house for the girls. They, the girls, are absolutely delighted, and have plans and plans and plans for what goes inside.

The new book, shelves turned out to be yellow. We have a number of excellent carpenters and painters. Besides this, we have an inventor who came up with the "Ward sander," a clever gadget for holding sand paper.

Jim Stephan has taken over this week in the health department.

W. B. BARBER, RETIRED COURT CRIER, DIES

William Barton Barber, 79, of the Town of Chenango, who was a crisis in Broome County Supreme Court for more than 15 years prior to his retirement in 1931, died March 8.

He had been in ill health for months and died in the Garden Center Convalescent Home, 91 Walnut Street, at about 3:30 P. M. He suffered uremia and had been in City Hospital for several months before entering the nursing home.

He was a cousin of the late President William Howard Taft.

Mr. Barber was born in Tri- angle, August 24, 1868, son of William Barber, a carpenter, and Harriet Taft Barber.

After attending school in Tri- angle, William Barber at the age of 14 moved to Binghamton and started work as a bellboy in the old Crandall Hotel. He later was employed at the old Sturdevant-Larabee sleigh and wagon factory.

In 1898 he moved to Kattleville, where he was a farmer for 15 years. In 1915 he became a deputy sheriff and served during the terms of Sheriff Jess C. Hoyer, Bartlett M. Holcomb, George Perrine, Winfield S. Robinson and Maurice J. Pope.

He succeeded Whitney A. Moore as court crier.

A Republican, he often recalled how he cast his first vote in a store at Chenango and Sturges Streets.

He had been active in the Red Men during his early life. He was a past state chief haymaker. In 1915 he married Lena R. Wilson. She died several years ago.

Mr. Barber was a Republican committeeman in Chenango at the time of his death. The body was taken to Hopler & George Funeral Home, 483 Chenango Street.

Surviving are a niece, Mrs. Dan Babbitt, Grayling, Mich.; a nephew, Lewis Salisbury, Binghamton, and a sister-in-law, Mrs. Frankie Barber, Roscommon, Mich.

He was a brother of the late F. D. Barber, Roscommon.

School News

On Thursday, March 11, the occupation class of Grayling High School visited Hunter's AuSable Dairy Bar, through the courtesy of the management.

An interesting and instructive hour was spent in a tour with explanation of the various dairy processes.

This was the first of a series of scheduled field trips arranged by a committee from the occupation class.

year since except 1944. The record stands at 33 wins, 14 lost and 3 tied. In the year 1941, Grayling's first in the Northern C. conference was won. The record for 3 years against a tie to win the loop headpiece. They were tied only by Charlevoix, dropping Boyne City by a 14-13 score. This was Boyne's first defeat by a Class 3 rival in six years. They repeated the performance in 1942 on a 5 won, 1 lost, and 1 tied record. They lost only to Alpena, 7 to 6, a Class A opponent and were tied by Petoskey, 7-7, a Class 3 rival.

In 1943, Grayling dropped out of the conference and set a 5 won, 1 loss and 1 tie record. They tied Boyne City, conference champions.

Mr. Barber, 19-19. The season of 1946 was the worst season the Wave ever had on the gridiron winning 4 and losing 4.

Likewise in baseball which was dropped in the late twenties. Grayling wrote an enviable record as they performed on the diamond in 1936, 1937, 1938, 1939, 1943, 1944 and 1946. In each of these years they captured the southern division championship of the conference and in 1938 and 1939 won the conference crown. In 1938 they dropped Charlevoix 5 to 0 and in 1939 East Jordan, 3 to 1.

In 1947, track was first started here with Grayling taking second place in the conference track meet with a first place in the 440 yard dash and two second spots, in the 100 yard dash and the broad jump.

Last year, they placed third in first place in the 140 yard dash, second place in the high jump and second in the relay race.

This year's football and basketball squad members and their fathers are being entertained tonight at the High School at the Annual Athletic Banquet. Between 80 and 100 people are expected to attend. The speaker of the evening will be Head Football Coach Lyle Bennett of Central Michigan College who will show movies of last year's Central and Western Michigan football game. He will also screen some college basketball movies.

SHOULD HEART BALM SUITS BE OUTLAWED?

Responsible officials label heart balm suits as a racket with few exceptions, yet in Chicago alone, suits demanding $12,000,000 for alienated love have been filed in the past year and a half. Read about the racket in The American Weekly, with this Sunday's (March 21) issue of The Detroit Sunday Times.

Misusing Public Funds

Forest A. Harness, who is chairman of the subcommittee on Publicity and Propaganda of the House Committee on Expenditures of Executive Departments, recently said that, "The amazing ramifications in behalf of socialized medicine have astonished me." He accused the Bureau of Research and Statistics of the Social Security Board of being especially active in this campaign, and added: "Our committee investigators have found in the Bureau a veritable nerve center of socialized medicine propaganda for the entire world. On the basis of evidence at hand, American Communism holds this program as a cardinal point in its objectives. . . . In some instances, known Communists and fellow travelers within the Federal agencies are at work diligently with Federal funds in furtherance of the Moscow party line in this regard."

That, coming from a man who has had the opportunity to examine all the evidence at first hand, is a shocking revelation. It is evident that a great deal more than a mere investigation is required—aggressive corrective action must be taken. There can be no justification for public employees, using public funds, propagandizing any cause. And the matter becomes worse when the cause in question follows an ideology which is in direct opposition to every American principle.

The American people have shown no stomach for socialized medicine. If the polls are to be trusted, they are overwhelmingly against it. So the followers of the party line within the government are going all out to force it down their reluctant throats. That must be stopped—and stopped now.

FILES OF THE AVALANCHE OF 23 YEARS AGO

March 19, 1925

Nels Michelson, a former citizen of Grayling, passed away at his home in Detroit, March 14th, after a brief illness with pneumonia. When Grayling needed a new church, Mr. Michelson was appealed to for financial aid and he stated that he would be glad to build a new church for Grayling as a memorial to his departed wife, which he did and everyone here knows how well he did carry out his promise. In the year 1918 a fine modern church building was handed over to the people of Grayling, complete in every detail and free of debt. On November 14, 1923 this structure was totally destroyed by fire together with all contents, ensuing a loss of $45,000. The property was covered with but $25,000 insurance and Mr. Michelson sent a message to the church board that the church should be rebuilt and that additional funds would be forthcoming to make up the amount necessary to complete the new church.

Word has been received of the birth of a daughter, Bonnie Lou, to Mr. and Mrs. Leo Tope of Rochester. The mother will be remembered as Miss Nina Peterson.

Mrs. Albert Knibbs entertained the Jolly Eight Club at her home Wednesday afternoon.

The fire department was called to the home of William Cardinal, Monday forenoon when one of the inner walls of the house were discovered on fire. It caused a good deal of excitement in the neighborhood, but by the quick response of the fire department and the aid of neighbors a bad blaze was prevented.

How to Keep 'Em
Down On the Farm

The other day Pete Swanson's nephew, Bud, allowed as how he was fed up with farm and country life... and was going to the city where there was a lot more opportunity and excitement.

Some folks might have tried to stop him. But not Pete. He even advanced Bud carfare for the trip
... figured that when he'd had a good look around, he'd come back where he belonged.

And what happened? After seven days of big-town bustle and excitement, Bud was back behind the wheel of a tractor, with color in his cheeks again. And he'd traded the night life of the city for a quiet glass of beer with Dad.

From where I sit, that's how it goes. Try to prevent some one from getting what he thinks he wants—and he'll go on wanting it. But give him his head, and he'll settle for the sensible thing—whether it's country life, or a temperate glass of beer!

Millions of American families during these days of high living costs are in danger of being under-nourished, warns the National Dairy Council, because housewives are buying according to prices and not according to food values. They stay within budgets but may jeopardize family health. So here, says the Dairy Council, is its "Guide to Good Eating"—a safe and sound nutritional guide, on which the council on foods and nutrition of the American Medical Association sets its seal of acceptance. Eat these foods daily to get the basic nutritional requirements of your body, and then

In the Night
By
N. G. ADLINGTON

THE old caretaker was not surprised when confronted by the man with the gun. He had been expecting something of the sort ever since the publicity in the paper.
He was swiftly but thoroughly searched.

"Where is it?" demanded the gunman.

"In the table drawer," said the old caretaker. "I never carry it with me. I'm afraid of it."

The old man dared to relax.
"Thanks," he said. "I was getting kinda tired holding 'em up. Do you mind if I sit down?"

"Yes," he said, with a sigh. "I told Mister John it was foolishness, putting all that stuff in the paper, no good would come of it."

"How right you were," grinned the man with the gun. "According to this spread, he's closed the joint up while he and his wife spend the summer on the coast."

Must be nice to have dough.
The old man shrugged. "That's the story the paper got."
"What do you mean," asked the gunman sharply. "Aren't you alone here?"

"Sure I'm alone," said the caretaker hastily. "I meant there was more to 'em closing the house up than the paper was told. Mister John's wife didn't like it here."
"Most dames could stand living in a shack like this."

"They've only been married three months. She liked it here at first, then she said it got on her nerves. Claimed the place was spooky. It's a pretty old place, you know."

"Enough of this spook talk," the gunman said roughly. "Here's what I'm interested in." He scored a few lines on the paper with his thumbnail, then tossed the paper to the old man.

SLOWLY the caretaker read aloud from the society page blurb.
"Among the many treasures gathered under the roof of the historic old house is an early Van Gogh..."

"I was going to tie you up first," said the gunman, with another quick glance at the dark passage, "but on second thought I'll let you show me where it is. Let's go."

They went half way through the passage, the caretaker leading, when the gunman stopped and gripped him by the arm.

"What was that?"

"I didn't hear anything."
They crossed a couple of rooms that must have been enormous, judging by the time it took to traverse them, before the caretaker halted again, this time of his own accord.

"This is the music room," he said.
The painting on this far wall.
The man with the gun gave a glance of satisfaction. With the piano as a bearing, it was easy to locate the Van Gogh. He let the light play

"Where is it?" demanded the gunman.

on it, making audible noises of satisfaction. "You can help me," he began, but the sentence was never finished.

High and clear, came the tinkling notes of a piano. It was as though an invisible hand had brushed over the keys, or lightly ran up a scale. The sound was repeated, but this time the notes were slow and uncertain, as if the unseen player tried to pick out an almost forgotten tune. The circle of light on the painting wavered violently, then jerked wildly down to the piano. By its light the two men saw that the stool was untenanted, but as each note sounded a key was depressed by invisible fingers. The old man was touching the gunman, and he felt him go rigid in terror. The next second the room was in darkness as the lamp fell or was hurled to the floor.

The kitchen door had slammed behind the intruder before the caretaker recovered the lamp. Approaching the piano, he fumbled under the open top, and when he withdrew his arm the music ceased abruptly.

"You littleascal, you," chuckled
the old man fondly, to the furry bundle in his hand. "It's a good thing for Mister John he told me I could use his planner. But it's no place for a kid-den to play in."

Letters To The Editor

Grove City, Ohio,
March 7, 1948.

Dear Editor:

It was with great interest that I read Mr. Feldhauser's letter in the March 4th edition of the Avalanche, because it brought back something equally as heartrending that happened while we were still residents of Maple Forest. It is supposed to be free range in that country but quite evidently there are some people living there who either do not agree with the free range law or are laboring under the misapprehension that the law was made for their stock alone. Our horses came home one day so badly shot up that two of them couldn't get their heads down to take a drink or get a bite of grass. Right at the time, when I saw the blood running down over their legs, the one almost blinded by fine shot, I was furious enough that if I could have gotten my hands on the dirty yellow coward who did it, I am afraid that he too might have felt the sting of No. 4 shot.

An investigation was made by the law but no one seemed to know anything about it. One person in that community had the nerve to tell me that he knew who did it but he wasn't telling. Any one who would protect a brute that committed such a dastardly crime is no better than the one that pulled the trigger.

Thank God, I was raised and now live in a country where even though they don't have free range, if someone's stock breaks out, regardless of the damage they do, they shut them up and notify you to come and get them.

As a parting shot at my former neighbors, in Ohio we have fences. The farmers here don't stick up two or three old rotten cedar posts, stretch some old rusty wire on it and then pretend they have a fence.

My only wish for the person that shot those horses is that some day they may feel twice the pain and misery that they caused those poor things.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Arthur Bigham,
Route No. 1,
Grove City, Ohio.

Census Bureau Conducts Annual Sawmill Survey

Lumber shortages which have existed since the latter part of the war make the results of the annual sawmill survey of the U. S. Bureau of the Census of prime importance, according to District Supervisor Donald P. Watkins with offices at Room 200 Post Office Bldg., Bayne City, Mich.

Census enumerators under Supervisor Donald P. Watkins's direction have started canvassing sawmills in this area to gather reports of the current sawmill survey which this year is being taken as part of the 1947 Census of Manufacturers. The major part of the manufactures census will be carried out by mail but all saw mills will be visited by Census Bureau field people since it is almost impossible to build up accurate mailing lists for this industry by reason of its mobility and the out-of-the-way locations of many sawmills.

Dash paprika
1 egg
1 cup milk
1 pint milk

1 tablespoon butter or margarine
Start slow oven, 325°F. Mix up flour, salt, pepper and paprika. Beat up the egg with a fork and mix into flour. Then mix in milk, chopped pimiento, chopped green pepper. Finally, drained corn. Pour into greased baking dish, dot with butter. Bake 1 hour.

1 can condensed mushroom soup
½ cup milk
Few grains pepper
Start 4 potatoes in a preheated oven, 350°F., about an hour before dinner. Tear the dried beef into pieces. Finally, drained corn. Pour into greased baking dish, dot with butter. Bake 1 hour.

Savory Beef Liver

1 lb. beef liver
1 cup tomato juice
¼ cup vinegar
¼ cup salad oil
Salt and pepper
4 tablespoons shortening
Flour
Liver should be cut very thin because it must be cooked quickly. Mix up the tomato juice, vinegar, salad oil, salt and pepper. Soak or marinate liver in this mixture 3 hours. Marinating adds extra flavor and tenderizes. To cook, melt shortening in a skillet over low fire. Drain liver, saving liquid, and roll in flour. Brown over hot fire quickly on both sides. Put your liver on a hot platter. Pour liquid back into pan and cook, stirring hard because it thickens up fast. Serve sauce over liver.

DAWSON'S

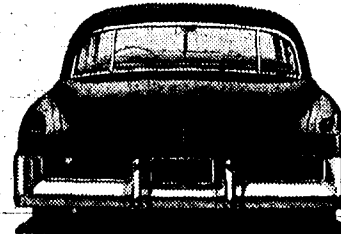

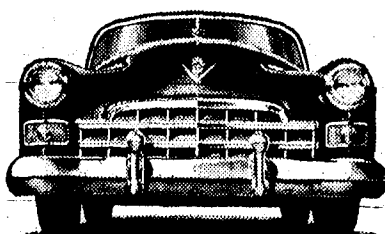

Cadillac
PRESENTS
THE New STANDARD OF THE WORLD!

Today, the world has a new standard by which to measure motor cars. For Cadillac has taken a great stride forward—one of the greatest, perhaps, in its entire history of automotive pioneering. As is always the case when a new Cadillac is introduced, the advancement embraces every phase of automotive goodness. The exterior appearance is wholly new, and represents the soundest principles developed in years of research. Interior design and finish are a complete departure, and add immeasurably to comfort, beauty and convenience. Performance is finer in every way, for the great Cadillac chassis and engine have been thoroughly refined. And vital improvements in factory equipment have raised even Cadillac's high standards of manufacturing. In fact, all the attributes which have contributed to Cadillac's reputation as the world's premier motor car have been made more pronounced. Regardless of the price class from which you expect to select your next car, you are cordially invited to view the new Cadillac—now on display in our showrooms. When the standard of the automotive world has been so decidedly raised, it should be of interest to everyone.

Cadillac's basic characteristics of design are fully apparent in the front view of the 1948 model. Bumper and grille are even more massive. The symbolic V ornament and crest have been pleasingly refined to harmonize with new, low hood lines.

Viewed from the rear, the 1948 Cadillac shows a complete departure in design. The full-width rear window improves appearance and safety. Smart "radiator-type" fenders, protected by sturdy bumper uprights, give an appropriate touch of fleetness. Note the wide, low rear deck.

Michigan Mirror

Governor Kim Sigler has re-designed his package for Michigan good government.

Immediate reform is giving way to long-range reform. Showing a willingness to change his mind when convinced that he can achieve results better by other methods, Sigler now favors the following program which is being shaped for presentation to the State Legislature in special session starting next Tuesday (March 18):

1. No new or higher taxes. Michigan taxpayers, the governor feels, are paying enough money today for government public service. The big job is to distribute this money equitably where it is needed. Hence, no new or higher taxes. For example: No increase in the state gasoline tax for additional road building.

2. Remove from the November ballot the legislature-authorizing vote on revision of the state constitution by constitutional convention. The governor is convinced that piecemeal revision of the constitution is a more intelligent way. Voters can concentrate their thinking on a few issues at hand, rather than opening the door wide to a complete revision through the relatively slow process of a convention.

3. Remove from the November ballot the legislature-authorizing vote on repeal of the sales tax diversion amendment. The governor consistently favored repeal; he still does. However, he is convinced that the time is not ripe for such action. The public must be convinced of its necessity, and the most realistic way to do this is to demonstrate through red ink financing—deficits, if you please—that the public cannot enjoy state public service (without new or higher taxes) while 78 per cent of the sales tax money is spent on the community for spending by home government.

4. Four-year tenure of office for all constitutional state and county officers except the state offices of secretary of state and attorney general, both to be filled by appointment by the governor. The first election to be in 1950, a non-presidential campaign year.

5. These elected officials to take office on December 1, instead of January 1, as at present. The new governor, for example, could then ready his legislative program before the legislature meets.

6. An amendment to remove salary limitations from the state constitution.

Added to these is a possible seventh plank—an amendment limiting the number of state departments and bureaus to a specified number, such as 20. Michigan has 100-plus state departments and bureaus. The governor may not press No. 7 unless the legislature balks at authorizing No. 1 to 6. Then he may take the "issue to the people themselves, as a petition signed and see that all amendments go on the November ballot.

There is also evidence that Sigler is thinking more of a "cabinet" of responsible department heads and elective officials and less of suggested power whereby the governor would have the right to hire or fire any department head. These planks form a formidable program. They illustrate anew the process of democracy in action.
